Video Settlement Documentaries:

A Video Settlement Documentary, is in essence, a condensed preview of your case. Its primary audience would be insurance adjusters and attorneys. It vividly depicts how a case will play to a jury. Since it is not produced for court presentation, creative elements are not restricted.

Video Settlement Documentaries are intended to present the strength of the plaintiff's case in dramatic fashion. Some elements may be re-edited for introduction in mediation or trial.

Day In Life Presentations

The Day-In-Life-Of video is an extremely effective way of demonstrating the severity of your client's injury. It provides the opportunity for you to take the adjuster or jury "into the home" of your client to see firsthand what they must experience and how the daily life of the plaintiff has been altered by the crash or event. We present an average day showing the impact the injuries have had upon your client.

:Morning Routine,

:Meals

:Hygiene

:Rehabilitation

:Transporting

:Interview with Family Members

The presentation is professionally edited into a concise effective presentation. It may include a professional narration for pretrial demand or mediation or presented without narration for trial. It may also include a family member or the victim describing the daily routine.
